1/11/2022

The full plan is completed by the Executive Director. This plan will be reviewed annually and updated as needed.

Life Recovery Services, Inc. values diversity in persons served, employees, families, and other stakeholders. We seek to fully serve the community and the diversity it represents.

Life Recovery Services, Inc. provides treatment services without discriminating against persons because of, race, ethnicity, culture, color, national origin, disability, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender expression, genetic information, religion, spiritual beliefs, language, socioeconomic status, or infectious disease status. In addition, Life Recovery Services, Inc. recognizes differences in backgrounds and beliefs that may influence the way groups of patients in treatment and individuals within these groups view the world and their place in it, their mental health, substance use, and treatment. Life Recovery Services, Inc. is and continues to be committed to providing culturally sensitive, competent, and accessible services to all individuals in need.

In keeping with our non-discrimination clause, all staff members must develop, adhere to, and demonstrate a philosophy and commitment to cultural sensitivity, competence, and proficiency. Cultural sensitivity and competence is characterized by acceptance of and respect for difference, continued self-assessment regarding culture, careful attention to the dynamics of difference, continuous expansion of cultural knowledge and resources and adaptations of treatment models in order to meet the needs of our diverse patient population. Cultural sensitivity and competence is further defined as the capacity to understand and work effectively in accord with the beliefs and practices of persons from a given ethnic/racial/religious/social group or sexual orientation. Life Recovery Services, Inc. staff members should understand the interplay between theory and practice and be committed to guiding principles that enhance services to diverse populations. This understanding should be reflected in the attitudes, beliefs, and practices of our personnel as, “the holding of knowledge, skills, and attitudes that allow the treatment provider and program to understand the full context of a client’s current and past socio-environmental situation.”

To this end, Life Recovery Services, Inc. provides training support for staff members and stakeholders to become aware of cultural differences and become sensitive and competent working in different socio-environmental, cross-cultural situations. All staff members will participate in trainings in cultural competency, diversity, sensitivity, multi-cultural awareness, and utilizing clinical skills and treatment strategies with diverse populations, as indicated. Life Recovery Services, Inc. conducts on-going training events that address various topics related to cultural sensitivity, competency, and proficiency. These are made available to the community-at-large for anyone interested. Trainings can be scheduled by contacting the Executive Director.

If necessary, patients may be referred to culturally appropriate services through linkages with other providers in the community. Every attempt is made to identify each client's needs and cultural preferences beginning with the initial assessment and admission to treatment, as well as throughout the duration of treatment.

Assessment and Evaluation:

It is the policy of Life Recovery Services, Inc. that cultural factors be routinely assessed and evaluated during initial screenings, assessments, as additional patient history is obtained, and as treatment proceeds. Culture will affect treatment directly and needs to be considered in developing, updating, and revising patient’s individual treatment plans. Included in staff member cultural competency and diversity trainings are strategies and guidelines for respectfully inquiring about and obtaining cultural factors from an individual. The goal is to identify and strengthen cultural resiliency, sensitivity, competency and protective factors.

Service Planning:

Once individual problem areas are identified, the expectation is that the service plan will reflect in writing and practice, with input from the patient, how such needs will be addressed while based upon the strengths, needs, abilities and preferences of each patient. Service plans will be reviewed to ensure that they provide for the unique needs of each individual served and this review may take place at several levels: during review by the treatment team, during chart audits, during clinical review as well as during record reviews. In addition, during Treatment Team meetings, issues concerning pertinent cultural and ethnic considerations of the patient are addressed. Culturally specific mutual help groups should be identified and recommended as part of the service and continuing care plans for patients, if indicated. Family interactions will be modified when relevant to address family issues in a cultural context.

Referrals to Other Service Providers:

If a patient is assessed to need supplemental services that are currently not available at Life Recovery Services, Inc., a referral to another provider or service will be arranged and documented by the primary case manager. We believe that only providers that have been vetted to ensure cultural competence and diversity inclusion should be used.
